

Historical Fiction

Luck of the Titanic

by Stacey Lee

After smuggling herself onto the RMS Titanic, British-Chinese teenager Valora Luck reunites with her twin brother and tries to convince him that their acrobatic training could be their ticket to a better life.

My Imaginary Mary

by Cynthia Hand, Brodi Ashton & Jodi Meadows

When two masterminds - Mary, the daughter of Mary Wollstonecraft, and Ada, the daughter of Lord Byron - are brought together by fate, they make a shocking - and magical - discovery that draws the attention of a mad scientist.

The Chandler Legacies

by Abdi Nazemian

Brought together through the Circle, a coveted writing group where life-changing friendships are born and secrets are revealed, five students at an elite boarding school challenge the long-standing culture of abuse through their writing.

Libertie

by Kaitlyn Greenidge

Coming of age as a free-born Black girl in Reconstruction-era Brooklyn, Libertie Sampson is all too aware that her mother, a physician, has a vision for their future together: Libertie will go to medical school and practice alongside her. But Libertie feels stifled by her mother's choices and is constantly reminded that, unlike her mother, Libertie has skin that is too dark.

We Are Not Free

by Traci Chee

Growing up together in the community of Japantown, San Francisco, 14 second-generation Japanese American teens find their bond tested by widespread discrimination and the mass incarcerations of people of Japanese ancestry during World War II.
