A Monster Calls FRIDAY, October 20

A boy befriends a wise tree monster while coping with bullying and his mother's terminal illness. He moves in with his grandmother as his mom's condition deteriorates, and uses his imagination and friendship with the monster to escape reality.

Rated PG-13. 108 minutes.

The Great Wall FRIDAY, November 17

Western mercenaries and Chinese warriors join forces to battle a supernatural menace that's attacking the Great Wall.

Rated PG-13,
103 minutes.

Casablanca Thursday, December 21

1944 Best Picture is a tale of wartime intrigue, romance, blackmail, black-marketeers and heroism in North Africa.

One of the most beloved American films, this captivating wartime adventure of romance and intrigue defies standard categorization. Simply put, it is the story of Rick Blaine (Humphrey Bogart), a world-weary ex-freedom fighter who runs a nightclub in Casablanca during the early part of WWII. Despite pressure from the local authorities, Rick's café has become a haven for refugees looking to purchase illicit letters of transit which will allow them to escape to America. One day, he is approached by the famed rebel Victor Laszlo and his wife, Ilsa, Rick's true love who deserted him when the Nazis invaded Paris. She still wants Victor to escape to America, but now that she's renewed her love for Rick, she wants to stay behind in Casablanca. "You must do the thinking for both of us," she says to Rick. He does, and his plan brings the story to its satisfyingly logical, if not entirely happy, conclusion. Not Rated, 102 minutes.
