“Bravery” by Kinsley Fritzges

Bravery is telling how you feel inside,
Facing your fears, not trying to hide.
These past couple years have been pretty rough,
But that just means that we have to be tough!
Wear a mask! Watch the news! Go get a vaccine!
These are small braveries, but they can be seen!
Some superheroes don't have powers, it's true!
And yet they still work hard to protect you!
Doctors, nurses, surgeons, and others!
Brothers, sisters, fathers and mothers!
These people work hard to get us what we need!
They've planted the first big bravery seed.
Teachers help us learn, they teach us at school!
So, let's all thank teachers, because they are cool!
Librarians encourage us to read, read, read!
That is the second big bravery seed!
Our mothers and fathers cook and clean all day,
So let's thank them too, hip hip hooray!
These people make a community, a place like home!
With all these guys around you'll never be alone!
And so, you see, that despite all the gloom,
Let's all thank our communities, because they've helped us

Bloom!
